There is a place at the end of a paved road where birds soar over meticulous lush pastures & where fields of wildflowers & stands of mature trees grow, all encircled with grand mountain views. This 310-acre property is already divided into five lots of varying sizes, each with its own water supply & power source. Develop the individual lots, create a family compound, raise cattle, build a horse ranch or establish a corporate retreat here. There are several structures to live in while you design & develop the perfect family compound. Where else could you find such a mountain haven just a 25-minute drive to Aspen or the slopes of Snowmass to the east, and be even closer to all the commercial & personal services you need to the west. The beauty of this unique opportunity cannot be overstated.
